How is LiteracyPlanet used?

LiteracyPlanet is used for student-directed learning in class, teaching supplements in-class, homework, for individual students or groups of students in class and outside of class.

How the school uses LiteracyPlanet to improve literacy outcomes.

The differentiated tools and reports help organise classes by ability level which then allows teachers to plan work accordingly. The two key areas where the tools really help with differentiation are:

- Locking students into years/grades. This allows teachers to lock students into lower or higher ability levels.
- Assigning work. Using the assigning tool to search for resources which may help target students who are falling behind.

“

Teachers at Greensprings School appreciate LiteracyPlanet's comprehensive grammar and punctuation program that is applied within meaningful contexts, enabling students to readily apply what they learn to their own writing. The platform was the perfect tool to help students practise and develop their grammar knowledge in a way that was also engaging.

“

The students love doing spelling exercises and the accumulating of points. They love the competitiveness of the program and scoring more gems for their Avatars.

LiteracyPlanet was engaging for students at Greensprings School.

The feedback from students about LiteracyPlanet is overwhelmingly positive. Students challenge each other, and see in real time as their scores improve on tasks. Generally, they like to perfect a task before they move on, meaning they are getting lots of practice at each skill and can implement this into their written work.

“

I am glad we opted for LiteracyPlanet despite the varied options available to us as at the time. The customer service offered was also very encouraging... I thank the LiteracyPlanet team for their professionalism and dedication.

How LiteracyPlanet benefitted the school.

The COVID-19 pandemic created the perfect opportunity for the school to explore LiteracyPlanet. It became useful when it was evident they needed a standardized means for assessment. It was easy to use for teachers to record grades and keep close track of student progress.
